FARMVILLE.

Christmas shines out in the faces of the young folks and begins to put the older ones to thinking seriously of its demands on the pocket book like wedding gifts Christmas remembrances have grown with the coming and going years. And it remains true that it is "more blessed to give than to receive." I presume no one in Farmville will be forced to send elsewhere for just what fancy calls for this season, for our stores are literally packed with shining gifts.

Our dispensary still closes at sundown but from sun to sun jugs are being filled in double quick time in anticipation of the 'rush.' Why there should be more drinking at the Christmas season than at the other seasons of the year is a question yet to be answered. "Peace on earth and good will among men" surely need no such artificial stimulant.

Mr. E E. Hundley, whose farm of 100 acres lies one mile south of our town, for a number of years was a leading tobacco grower. He has now abandoned it altogether and taken up diversified farming. Last season he 'spread himself' on two acres of irish potatoes and will no doubt realize from the crop quite $500. He made 300 bushels on one acre and is selling them right along at 90 cents a bushel. Few of us yet realize the value of Southside Virginia soil. In my opinion it is the most generous of all the state. In this connection I may mention that Mr. W. H. Richardson has just sold his valuable farm, adjoining the Eastern limits of our town, for $60 an acre. Mr. Richardson has long been recognized as one of our leading farmers, and but for the loss of his sight I do not believe he could have been induced to have sold his farm.

In a recent debate at the Normal between representatives of the Cunningham and Argus societies, the former won. The victors defended Niagara against the inroads of those who would destroy its glory for gold. The boys conducted have done as well as did those valiant girl combatants.

Some of the teachers of the school teachers of the school got a free buggy ride as far as Tuggles on the N. & W. a few evenings since expecting to take the cars for the return trip Great was their consternation when told that the eastbound train made no stop at Tuggles. Fortunately they were taken to Prospect and there boarded the train for home. Next time they will scrutinize the schedule.

The wintry air makes one people quicken their steps. Everybody you meet with is in a hurry except the 'town mule' and he keeps up the same steady go. And he is everlastingly 'at it.'

Cumberlan l county lightwood is getting so scarce that I don't know what we would do without the kindling furnished by our planing mills. I suppose there are as few folks in Farmville without fires in their homes as in any other town of like size in the county, and yet there are always some with us who suffer from the cold of winter.

Work has been suspended on High Street temporarily.

Some of our Methodist friends are complaing of the white spots that are breaking out on the bricks of which their new church is being built.

The new bridge over Buffalo is'nt wide enough to admit of the passage of vehicles and that is an inexcusable blunder.

It is to be regretted that so many men fail to use the same good sense in the conduct of public affairs that they do in the management of their own.

The Randolph hotel property is being put in good repair and that means much for our town.

Rev. Gunborne, rector of the Episcopal church, has received a very flattering call to a church in Louisana. His predecessors are all men of prominence in their church, and particulary is this so of Rev. A. St. Lloyd, D. D., first rector of the Farmville church, and now one of the most prominent ministers of that church in the nation.

Dr. Jones, of the Normal Faculty has delivered the first of a series of lectures he will make before the students of Hampden Sidney during the session. The boys are to be congratulated on the privilege of hearing Jones.

Miss Alice P ul tte has recently enjoyed a delig ful visit with friends in Washington and Baltimore.

President McAllister is back from a business trip to New York.

Mr. A. M. Young, who has been floating in the neighborhood of Prospect, has bought a lot on High Street and will build here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Berkley, of Berkley, will remain with us until the Spring.

I agree with the editor of the herald that the most appropriate gift to be sent an absent friend is the local paper for a year. A well-edited weekly paper is a weekly home letter, and when it is remembered that it only costs 2 cents a week it just amounts to the cost of postage.

Our express wagon begins to groan beneath the load of Christmas boxes and all of us watch eagerly for its coming as are disappointed when it fails to stop at our door. Saturdays are still red letter days in the business of our town. Our streets are crowded with busy buyers from early morn until 'daylight' and we on our stores close at midnight our merchants are ready for the rest of Sunday.

Eggs are soaring and nogs will be 'scarce'. Of late years they have not been so much in evidence as in former years. They might be dispensed with without material loss.

I wish our boys would pop all the crackers and shoot off all the candles on one evening of Christmas week and then let us have peace.

Many Interesting Reports Made of Her People.

IS LIFE WORTH TO US THE LIVING?

Is life worth to us the living,
With its taking and its giving,
With the coming and the going
And the tide forever flowing?

Is life worth to us the living,
Friends so loved and foes forgiving,
First a handshake fond in greeting,
Then farewell, no more meeting.

Times ot woe, times of pleasure
Making up of life its measure,
Sad in one scene, glad another,
Joy and woe so wrought together.

Smiles are seen while tears are falling,
Hearts are seen in sorrow calling
All in one grand picture blending,
No one leaves room the ending.

We find in life so many blessings,
Hearts so true in sweet caressings,
Friends so constant, fond and loving,
These alone life's worth are proving.

Yes, life a worth to us the living,
With faithful hearts and foes forgiving
With all its joy and woe together,
To end in one bright dream forever.

Buckingham.

The Union Christmas tree which was had in the Presbyterian church on the 26th was a decided success and not only was every child remembered but the older ones as well. Indeed there seemed to be a mode selected by those who take small interest in Sunday school work, to convey Christmas remembrances to their friends.

The Masons gave a dinn r at Mrs Fisher's Hotel on the 27th.

Mrs. W. E. Pratt and children came over from Farmville and spent the holidays with friends. Mrs. Pratt is now living in Mr. Baxter Davis' house in Farmvil e.

Mr. E. T. Galloway, of Hartsville S. C. spent Christmas week at the hospitable home of Mrs. B. M. Swoope. Mr. Gall way is taking a business course at college in Richmond.

Mr. J. H. Fitzgerald is home again looking better than for some time.

Dr. Charles McCulloch, who was so terribly hurt in a corn husker or food cutter a few weeks ago is getting on nicely and is arm is healing very satisfactorily.

Mr. F. H. Spencer had his hand badly bitten by a fox he captured. An unusually large number of colored people came home to spend Christmas and seem to enjoy spending their money. One of their number, a young man named Peaks was accidentally killed at Enonville by a negro named Brown. It seems that Brown was trying to pull a pistol from Peak's pocket when the weapon was discharged, doing its deadly work. The Brown negro will not be punished by law as it is said by those in a position to know that it was accidental.

Mrs Sue Gibson continues ill at her home near Manteo and has had Dr. Preston, of Lynchburg and Dr. Glover of Arvon to see her.

The death of Rev. W. E. Bullard which took place at Lunenburg Court house has cast a gloom over the parts of the county where he became so well known when he was on this circuit. Mr. Bullard married Miss Anderson the last time, a daughter of Mr. E. V. Anderson and his remainder were buried with Masonic honors at Bethel on Saturday the 29th.

Sheppards.

TIMES:—The first letter of the New Year must of necessity be retrospective.

The people of our part of the grand old county have much to be thankful for and we trust that we shall enter upon the New Year with an earnest purpose to do all in our power to make it better, even than the last.

So much for the "sermon" now for a few concrete facts:

Our farmers have been blessed with good crops and good prices. Our laborers have had better wages than ever before, and besides, have had an unlimited demand for their services. Our merchants have without exception, sold more goods than ever before.

The Standard Oil Co's. stave mill will move back to our vicinity in a few days and will give employment to a number of hands.

There is strong talk of an extension of the C. & O. R. R. for several miles South of Rooney, which will also make it interesting to the laboring man. This road will eventually be built to Farmville.

Mr. J. J. Reunno, who purchased the Baldwin farm has sold it and has purchased a farm from Mr. Pollard and will build upon it at once.

Mr. N. A. Pollard has in the past year built a nice dwelling at Sheppards and Mr. George H. Elcan has not only built a handsome dwelling upon his land, but has already brought home his bride, who will reside at the home of Mr. M. C. Elcan, until her new home is completed.

The various saw mills in the neighborhood have kept busy and the supply as well as the demand for Buckingham lumber seems inexhaustible.

Our genial and popular Rural Carrier Mr. I. D. Forbes finds time for other enterprises besides working for Uncle Sam. He has recently taken a contract to furnish several thousand rail-road ties to Messrs. E. S. Taylor & Co., who are the largest lumber dealers in our vicinity.

Messrs. Wiley B. Gillispie and Hubert M. Smith, two Buckingham boys who have spent several years in West Virginia, have returned to the old county to li e. Good! Wish all the boys do likewise, and then verily, "two bladesof grass would grow where one grew before."

Nearly all the college boys came home for Christmas. By the way old Buckingham has twenty-two representatives in the State Normal School at Farmville. "That does'nt sound so bad!" Twenty-two girls from one county.

Speaking of schools, our county Superintendent promises us a graded school at (or near) Sheppards next year. That's sounds good too! Harrah for Supt. Twyman.

Our telephone lines are being extended, and more and more our people are awakening to the advantages of quick communication with each other and with "the outside world."

I learn that Mr. J. B. Austin and family will move from Norfolk to our neighborhood soon. We are always glad to extend the right hand of welcome to such good citizens.

Rev. A. L. Carson has opened up a new work, so to speak, in taking an appointment at Garnett's chapel. The people of that vicinity are pleased with our preacher and he with them.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Horner of N. C. spent Christmas with Mrs. Horner's parents at New Store, so also did Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Morris. Mrs. Morris will return to Boston in a few days to resume her art work.

Miss Jonie May Crute came home from Tennessee to spend the holidays with her mother, near Sheppards.

Messrs. H. L. Forbes and M. S. Jones, who for the past two years have lived in South Carolina, also came home to see the folks and help make Buckingham the brighter.

Another Terrible Accident in Buckingham.

During the past three weeks or in about that time two deaths and one serious wounding has taken place in our quiet neighborhood and all the parties lived almost on adjoining farms. Alfred Brown lost his life and Dr. McCulloch his arm by the same corn shucking machine and now it happens that Thomas Stinson was accidentally drowned last week at Fallsburg, on James River by attempting to cross the river in a small canoe when it was high. He was one of the very best carpenters in Buckingham, was on his way home from Albemarle. He was an excellent boatman but it seems that the river had risen very much that day and it is said that one of the oars belonging to the boat had been lost. When he reached the swift current the canoe was carried rapidly down the river and soon upset plunging him into the water and he was unable to stem the current and swim to the bank. No one was near enough to save him. He was a good Confederate soldier and perhaps a little over sixty years old and leaves a wife and several children. He was a most useful man and a good citizen and had many friends and will will be much missed. He was on his way home to spend the Xmas when he met his sudden death. All of his family have the deep sympathy of their friends and neighbors. It seems that in the past (in a little more than a generation) sixteen persons have lost their lives by drowning between Warren and Manteo inclusive and among them were some of our best citizens. The law should be made rigid with reference to the construction of boats and corn shucking machines. Like that bought by Dr. McCulloch ought not to be permitted to be sold for it is true that of twelve of these corn shocking machines sold by the same company one death has been caused and thirteen arms amputated. Not many more are likely to be bought in this section.

A NEIGHBOR.

December 22nd, 1906.

New Store.

Christmas has been very quietly kept in our vicinity, a good many of our people being sick.

Miss Annie Jones is home for the holidays but is not well.

Mr. C. M. Elcan is slowly improving.

Mrs. Ben Hooper has been sick

Miss Graham Trent, who came home from the Normal in Farmville with pneumonia, is out of danger.

Rev. Mr. Bullard, former pastor of Bethel church died in Lunenburg on the 27th inst. His body was brought to Bethel for interment. By a strange coincidence he was married on the 27th of last December to Miss Lula Anderson of Andersonville and on the same date in this year and near the same hour he passed into eternal rest, leaving a wife, an infant boy two months old, a boy of perhaps six years by a former wife and a sister to mourn their loss. We extend them our heartfelt sympathies.

Mrs. Geo. H. Elcan brought home his bride from Richmond on the 27th.

A prosperous and happy New Year to the TIMES.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy beneficial in City Councilman at Kingston, Jamaica.

Mr. W. O'Reilly Fogarty, who is a member of the City Council at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies, writes as follows: "One bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had good effect on a cough that was giving me trouble and I think I should have been more quickly relieved if I had continued the remedy. That it was beneficial and quick in relieving me there is no doubt and it is my intention to obtain another bottle."

INTERESTING STORIES ABOUT HOME FOLKS.

Our Correspondents Relate the News of the County.

Southside.

The sands of time have rolled around again bringing another glad Xmas time and again we send merry Xmas greeting to the TIMES and its many readers, and may the old glad tidings of "Peace on earth good will to men" find a responsive echo in each and every heart.

Getting ice has been the occupation of many this week. Messrs. J. T. Cawthorn and J. T. Cole are the only ones we know of who have filled their houses, but they are always ahead.

We trust that all of your correspondents who have been so busy fixing for Xmas will let us hear from them now. (How do we know you have been busy fixing for Xmas?) Because, as the old clown said, "We were in the same fix." It is hard for us to get up a newsy letter when the lives of most of us are just moving along on the same old way.

Mrs. S. P. Coleman, who has been quite sick is some-thing better.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Robert Woolridge, who has been sick so long is getting about again.

Mr. C. R. Mann has been quite ill.

Mr. T. A Coleman's condition is about the same. Most of his children returned to the old home to spend Xmas, for probably the last time, as the family expect to move in their new house as soon as completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Older, of the Hill City are guests of Mr. T. W. Oder.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellie Oder are visiting relatives near Reedy Springs.

Mr. Frank Woolridge, who has been at school in Richmond, is at home for the holidays.

There was preaching at Forrest last Sunday p m

Mr. Ben Giles had the misfortune to lose one of his horses recently.

Miss Margaret Bell and brother, Mr. Jos. Bell, of Prince Edward, were visiting relatives at Mountain View recently.

Miss Elvyn Coleman attended the marriage of Miss Annie Allen and Mr. Will Davis at Prospect the 20th inst.

The family of Mr. J. T. Cole are entertaining quite a large house party this week. Miss Ednie Anderson and Messrs. Henry Anderson, Lance Strickland, Howard and Lee Warren, of Pittsylvania and Miss Vivian Coleman are among the guests.

Miss Emma Coleman entertained a number of her friends last night.

Mr. Geo. W. Coleman, Jr. made a flying trip to Prospect today.
